

Adore (a-dore) 1. to worship or honor as a deity or as divine 2. to regard with loving admiration and devotion

Admire (ad-mire) 1. to marvel at 2. be pleased by 3. respect

Abundance (a-bun-dance) 1. a more than plentiful quantity of something 2. large amount

Adventure (ad-ven-true) 1. a daring, hazardous undertaking 2. an unusual, exciting, often suspenseful experience.

Accomplish (ac-com-plish) 1. to succeed in doing or achieving something 2. reach point in time: to arrive at the end of a period of time

Accept (ac-cept) 1. take something offered 2. to reply in the affirmative to an invitation 3. to acknowledge that something is true 4. to acknowledge a fact or truth and come to terms with it

Acclaim (ac-claim) 1. praise somebody lavishly 2. to praise somebody or something publicly with great enthusiasm 3. to demonstrate enthusiastic approval by shouting and cheering

Achieve (e-che-v) 1. to complete some expectation successfully 2. to obtain or reach one set out to do

Angel (An-jel) 1. a messenger of God 2. characterized by having wings and a halo 3. one that is perfect, good and beautiful 4. one sent to watch over and protect; guardian

Artistry (art-ist-ry) 1. the creative ability and skill of an artist, or the expression of this 2. great ability and skill in doing something

Aspire (as-pire) 1. to seek after 2. ambitious enthusiasm in seeking one's goal

Autumn (ot-em) 1. the season also known as fall; coming between summer and winter 2. characterized by the changing leaves, the return of school and a time of gratitude

Beauty (beau-ty) 1. pleasing and impressive qualities 2. the combination of qualities that make something pleasing and impressive to listen to or touch, or especially to look at

Beautiful (byoot-e-ful) 1. pleasingly attractive physical appearance 2. lovely; fine to behold 3. delicate and favorable

Becoming (be-com-ing) 1. attractively suitable for somebody's appearance 2. showing somebody to advantage

Believe (be-lieve) 1. to accept that something is true or real 2. to have faith in 3. accept as fact Believe

Believe (be-lieve) 1. to put ones trust in 2. to accept on as fact 3. to have faith in

Birth (burth) 1. the act of bearing a child into the world 2. bringing forth offspring 3. the beginning of anything 4. newness of life

Birthday (birth-day) 1. the day on which somebody is born 2. the day in each year that is the anniversary of the day somebody was born

Blessed (bles-id) 1. holy, sacred, fortunate; blissful 2. recipient of goodness

Bliss (blis) 1. great happiness 2. spiritual joy
Bliss (blis) 1. perfect happiness 2. a state of spiritual joy

Bright (brit) 1. shining with light 2. brilliant in color or sound; vivid 3. lively and cheerful 4. radiating or reflection light 5. of high saturation or brilliance 6. smiling faces

Brothers (broth-er) 1. male sibling: a boy or man who has the same father and mother as another person

Calm (calm) 1. without anxiety or strong emotion 2. worry free

Cats (cat) 1. furry animal that purrs and meows: a small domesticated mammal that has soft fur, sharp claws, pointed ears, and, usually, a long furry tail. Cats are widely kept as pets or to catch mice

Celebrate (sel-e-brat) 1. perform as a ritual 2. to commemorate with festivity 3. to do honor 4. have a good time

Cherub (cher-eb) 1. a type of angel characterized as a chubby, rose cheeked child with wings 2. a child with a sweet, innocent face

Cherish (cher-ish) 1. to hold dear 2. to treasure, adore, value and love 3. to keep deeply in mind

Clarity (clar-i-ty) 1. expressed clearly 2. the quality of being clear, pure, or transparent

Commitment (kemit-ment) 1. to dedicate oneself to something or someone 2. duty; promise

Conceive (con-ceive) 1. to form an idea or concept of something in your mind 2. to produce something from the mind such as an emotion

Cornucopia (kor-nyoo-kp-pe-a) 1. a horn shaped basket overflowing with a fresh harvest 2. abundance